RE: Public Disclosure Request

Dear Ms Ahn,

Thank you for your request for information pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act and applicable laws and regulations for the State of Washington dated October 11, 2004 and received by King County International Airport on October 12, 2004.

I have directed our Records and Information Manager, AJ Merrick to assist you in this matter. As you may be aware, the revised code of Washington (R.C.W.) 42.17.320 requires that a response to records requests be made within five business days of receipt. This letter is intended to fulfill that requirement.

You have asked for a considerable amount of information relative to the Georgetown Steamplant, and the general area of North Boeing Field area in the vicinity of Ellis Avenue South, to include material regarding historical operations and uses and all information regarding any environmental investigations and/ or environmental clean up. We are in the process of identifying the materials and can tell you, that just in response to the environmental aspect of this request; we have identified almost 7,000 pages of material.

Additionally, your request by its wording includes necessarily, a review of interrogatories from an action brought by Georgetown as pertains to an alternative considered in the development of the Airport Master Plan. These interrogatories take up 11 boxes of material for your review. There are other issues to resolve, such as historical uses and a more definitive description of the area you call North Boeing Field.

Strictly as a general housekeeping matter, while we are acknowledging your request, attached are two separate documents, the first of which we normally use to accept your request, puts you on notice of a $0.15 cent per page copying requirement and also is used as a tracking device for our internal management. The second attachment deals with lists, and we believe is required in this matter, and also puts the requestor on notice regarding "commercial business gain". We would appreciate your timely completion of these documents.

AJ has cleared his schedule all day October 22, 2004 to meet with you at his office, so we might begin a review of documents outlined in your request. Please advise AJ as to your availability, so that he might reserve a conference room. Mr. Merrick is available by phone (206) 296-7420 or email at aj.merrick@metrokc.gov.

Thank you again for your request.

Sincerely,
